

TIGERS TO OPEN DIAMOND SEASON APRIL 9 AGAINST AIR SERVICE NINE

Coach L. Coblenz's El Paso High school baseballers will resume stiff practice Monday afternoon in the High school stadium after being forced to lay off yesterday afternoon due to the bad weather conditions.

Next Monday's practice session will see the Tigers preparing for the opening of their 1924 season campaign. Their first game is against the 12th Aero Observation nine of Fort Bliss Wednesday afternoon April 9. The game will be played in the stadium.

During the week Coach Coblenz has given the Bengal candidates preliminary work.

The prospects are bright for another strong nine this season, as Coach Coblenz has six of last year's letter men back in harness.

The schedule for the coming season has not been completed as yet. Coach Coblenz announced last night that there are plenty of open dates for Wednesday, Friday or Saturday games with local teams.

Among the men that have returned this season is Sidney Cohen, pitching and hitting mainstay of the Bengals last year, and a two-year letter man. Cohen batted .649 last season, the highest average any High school player has ever attained. Sidney also fielded with a 1,000 perfect percentage mark to his credit.

Cohen while not working on the mound last season covered an outer garden position, although it is certain that he will cover the initial sack for the Tigers this year, as he was developed into a great first sacker while playing amateur baseball last summer. Cohen, who also played on the basketball team this year, may not do much pitching this coming season. His arm is reported in none too good shape.

Coach Coblenz will have a pair of fleet-footed outfielders in "Bog" Bill Gorman and Albert Ponsford. Both fielded perfectly last year. They are good hitters.

Pat Clark and Albert Tatum, who covered the right and center field positions respectively last year, are not back this year.

Lelo Soto, El Paso High school's all-around athlete and a two-year letter man in baseball, is back for his old backstopping position.

Soto socked the pellet last season for an average of .412.

Bill Powell, one of the most promising second sackers Coach Coblenz has ever had a two-letter man, is out for his old position. Powell displayed some good playing in early season games. His hitting is also good.

"Babe" Harris, who graduated from the Feldman boyland team last year and who pitched some of the last games for High school under the tutorage of Coblenz, is developing into one of the best fast ball pitchers Coblenz has yet turned out.

"Dog" Dawson, captain of last year's team, is now attending S. M. U., while Jack Light, shortstop, is at the Texas College of Mines. "Bus" Phillips, pitcher, also graduated last year.

Wally Fields, who was captain-elect to head this year's team, took a summer school course last year and graduated, leaving the captain post vacant. Coblenz will hold an election for captain soon.
