Sid Cohen Sought by Fort Smith Nine

Sid Cohen, star El Paso High school pitcher, now a forward on the Tiger basketball team, yesterday received an offer from the owner of the Fort Smith nine of the Western association. The Fort Smith nine seeks Cohen for the coming season, and if he showed up there Cohen would probably be signed for the St. Louis Cardinals. Sid said yesterday, however, that he would continue his course at High school next year, and would not play professional ball at least until he completes his High school and college course. He has had a number of offers.

Cohen is rated by Coach L. Coblentz of the Tigers as a crack all-round man, who can play any position on the diamond as well as pitch. He batted .650 during the Tigers' season schedule last spring and is counted upon as one of the mainstays of this spring's Tiger nine.
